A major in philosophy can serve as a basis for graduate studies in such areas as philosophy, the humanities, law, medicine, business and urban planning and development. This major can also lead to careers in corporate management, government, politics, banking or education. For information about these and other careers, please go to www.onetonline.org/.

Job Titles for Philosophy Majors

- Advertising Executive
- Archivist
- Book Critic
- Copy Editor
- Editor
- Foreign Correspondent
- Historian
- Lawyer
- Lobbyist
- Medical Ethicist
- Public Administrator
- Writer
- Executive

- Anthropologist
- Administrator
- Clergy
- Computer Systems Analyst
- Editorial Assistant
- Foreign Service Officer
- Human Resource Manager
- Lecturer
- Manager
- Political Scientist
- Research Assistant
- Urban & Regional Planner

- Arbitrator
- Biographer
- College Professor
- Diplomat
- FBI/CIA Agent
- Freelance Writer
- Journalist
- Librarian
- Market Research Analyst
- Psychologist
- Technical Writer
- Physician